How to study smarter and faster, remember better - and prepare for the future

THE CHALLENGE

Parents worry that their child has fallen behind in their learning due to COVID-19. Parents are concerned about the future career prospects for their children in a challenging job market. But fortunately, new skills can be acquired so that learners can withstand these changes, thrive, and become the leaders of tomorrow.

▪ Continuing Brain Development

While people used to believe that the brain became fixed after a certain age, newer research has revealed that the brain never stops changing in response to learning. People are not limited to the mental abilities they are born with. The brain is like a muscle, the more it is exercised, the more neurons develop.

▪ Increased Internet Connectivity

The steadily increasing internet availability throughout South Africa has put training using electronic delivery within reach of many learners.

THE SOLUTION

The good news is that the StudySmart learning programme, 10 Habits of Successful Learners is a proven way to:

- Assist learners in improving their learning development skills, and learn more, think faster, and focus better.
- Offer parents the opportunity to maximise their children's potential, by supporting them in improving their study techniques – and their marks.

Emphasis is also placed on the development of a positive study attitude. Learners testify that completing this programme boosted their school marks, their self-confidence and resulted in greater study enjoyment.

The tested and proven study techniques are based on the clinical experience of more than 30 years, combined with the latest research on brain science.

The highly affordable, multi-media programme is available in Afrikaans and English and can be completed anywhere and anytime. The videos and PDF documents can be downloaded on cell phones.
